BROILER FESTIVAL SCHEDULED NEXT WEEK

Maine broiler growers and the public will both have their feelings at the annual Maine Broiler Festival at Bethel next Friday and Saturday, July 12 and 13. An outstanding program for broiler growers featuring a broiler grower from Georgia and a top government poultry official, will be held Friday afternoon and evening at Grosvenor High School in Bethel. Then the public chicken barbecue will draw the public by the thousands to the Bethel City Park on Saturday, July 13. Growing of the Maine Broiler Queen, displays and exhibits by the broiler industry, announcement of winners in the Maine 4-H Broiler Growing Contest and displays of the top birds, and the chance to eat your fill of delicious Maine broilers will make it a day to remember.

LAKE AND STREAM INVENTORIES TO BE CARRIED OUT THIS SUMMER

An ambitious program of lake and stream inventories will be carried out this summer by the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Game, according to Commissioner Roland E. Cobb.

Surveys to be conducted by the Fishery Research and Management Division include all major parts of the state. Lakes will be inventoried in the Penobscot Region, the Belgrade and Rangley Regions, the Ardenboro Region, and the Moosehead Region.

Initial part of each survey is the mapping of a contour map for the lake. Major phase of the inventory is held in August when biologists obtain fish species composition, average content and water temperatures at all levels.

Surveys distinguish between warm and cold water ponds. Fishery officials believe that classification of Maine's lakes alone can save thousands of dollars by insuring that hatchery-reared fish are planted in the right environments and where they are most needed.

The Hatchery Division of the Fish and Game Department is doing its best to produce large numbers of fish necessary to round out Maine's expanding fishery management program; but there will never be enough hatchery-reared fish to stock all inland waters or to maintain fishing as anglers know it in the Pine Tree State, without naturally-produced fish.

Scheduled for inventories during the 1957 field season, time permitting, are 16 lakes and ponds and 7 streams in the Penobscot Region under direction of Robert Rupp of Bangor, 15 lakes and ponds and 2 streams in the Belgrade and Rangley Regions under direction of Robert Foye of Farmingdale; 16 lakes and ponds in the Ardenboro Region under direction of Ken Warner of Ashland; 18 Washington and Hancock Region Waters under direction of Keith Harvey of Machias; and 21 lakes and ponds in the Moosehead Region under direction of Roger Auclair of Rockland; and 19 lakes and ponds plus one river in the Sebago Region under direction of Stuart DeRoche of Springvale.

Total number of waters scheduled for inventory is 125.

The truly generous is the truly wise, and he who loves not others lives unloved.

WHITE BIRCH SHADE TREES SUFFERING FROM INSECT DAMAGE

White birch shade trees in Maine have been suffering from the ravages of a tiny insect known as the birch leaf miner. The insect mines between the lower and upper leaf surfaces of birches, causing the leaves to turn brown as though scorched. Another attack from the insect may be expected during July. Lewis P. Bissell, Extension Service forestry specialist, recommends spraying with Lindane according to directions on the package. Also, shade trees might be fertilized for added vigor. Repeated defoliation caused by the birch leaf miner will weaken trees but probably won't kill them.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION URGES SAFEKEEPING OF SEPARATION PAPERS

Approximately 125 veterans each month who apply for Veterans Administration benefits in Massachusetts have lost their discharge or separation papers. M. L. Stoddard, Manager, Veterans Administration Center, Togus, estimates. Although a veteran may be able to obtain a certificate in lieu of lost discharge or a copy of his separation papers from his branch of service, often this takes considerable time, Stoddard said.

"Veterans can save themselves both time and trouble by taking proper care of their discharge and separation papers," Stoddard said. The best way to assure the safety of your separation papers, Stoddard pointed out, is to:

- (1) Have photostats made, including one in wallet-size that can be always carried with you.
- (2) Have them recorded at your county courthouse and returned to you; then you'll always be able to get a copy when you need it.
- (3) Keep the original papers in a safe deposit box at a bank or in a strong box at home; and
- (4) Make sure that your family knows where the papers are kept, so that in case of emergency they'll be able to find them without delay.

NEED GOOD FARMING

It's important to have a good farm, but even more important to be a good farmer, Oxford County Farmers Home Administration supervisor serving Oxford and Androscoggin counties says. He made the remark while discussing the progress of local farm families who are paying off the 250 farm operating loans his agency now has on its books.

Making definite plans for planting at proper time and timely harvesting of these crops is an aid to good farming, he said.

The agency makes operating loans to help family type farm operators do profitable farming. Its loans and services supplement, but do not compete with, those of private or cooperative lenders. Necessary planning help and aid in working out farm management problems are parts of each loan transaction.

The attitude of the operator is not enough. Spectators of life are not those who will fight to retain their liberties. -General George C. Marshall

EXTENSION ASSOCIATION REPORTS INCREASED MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the Maine Extension Association took an upward turn in the year ending June 30. Thirty-three more members than last year were recorded by the County Extension Associations composing the state organization. Total membership reached 18,233. The eight County Extension Associations with increases this year were York, Waldo, Oxford, Somerset, Southern Aroostook, Northern Aroostook, Franklin, and Washington. Recording the same membership as last year was Knox-Lincoln. Largest Extension Associations were in Aroostook, Penobscot, York, Cumberland, Oxford, Hancock, Waldo and Androscoggin - Sagadahoc Counties.

WASHINGTON

Q—Were there any basic principles debated in the Constitutional Congress upon which there was no dispute and unanimity of agreement?

A—Yes. There were six basic principles upon which there was no recorded dispute. 1—All States would be equal; 2—All persons were to be equal before the law; 3—There would be three branches of government, one to make the laws; another to execute them and a third to settle questions of law. 4—The Government is a government of laws, not men; 5—The People can change the authority of the government by changing the constitution, and 6—the Constitution, the Acts of Congress and United States treaties are the highest law, over and above any State law.

Q—Can a member of Congress transmit free mail to any foreign country?

A—Yes, to most countries in the western hemisphere, except Air Mail. Two exceptions are Argentina and Brazil. The courtesy to U. S. Mails are also extended to the reciprocating countries for their congressional members.

Q—Is there a large box-like structure in the basement of the Capitol covered with a black cloth. Can you tell me what it is?

A—It is a catafalque originally intended for the permanent tomb of George Washington. Washington, however, provided in his will for burial at Mount Vernon. The catafalque was used in 1865 to support the casket of Lincoln and has since been used for every person laid in state in the Capitol rotunda. It is kept in the sub-basement directly beneath the rotunda.

Q—What is the oldest Federal Building in Washington?

A—The White House, begun in 1792. It was not quite finished in 1800 when John Adams moved in as the first occupant. The interior and part of the walls were destroyed by fire by the British in 1812. It was rebuilt immediately and then was not touched except for minor repairs until 1947 when President Truman had it completely renovated, even to new foundations, but retaining lines of original design.

Q—Can you brief us on the new regulations for out-patient treatment of veterans with service connected disabilities?

A—The new system went into effect January 1, 1957 in all states except Oregon, California, Colorado, Michigan, North Carolina, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin, and Hawaii where the starting date will be July 1, 1957. It will affect about 40,000 doctors and 637,000 veterans. Here are changes:

1—Doctors will get annual treatment authorizations, instead of submitting monthly reports; (2) Doctors may submit quarterly, instead of monthly reports; (3) Doctors may submit monthly bills on own billheads instead of VA forms; (4) Veterans will get travel authorization for entire treatment period instead of monthly travel authorizations.

Q—What is the deadline for a GI home loan on purchase of a house for a Korean veteran?

A—January 31, 1958.

Q—What is a Congressional at-large?

A—If a Congressional district shows that a state is entitled to additional representation, unless the state redistricts, the additional representatives are elected at large—i.e. they do not represent any particular district.

Q—Can you tell me how the term "filibuster" originated?

A—The word "filibuster" was originally applied to a plunderer or a buccaner, or adventurer who led private armed expeditions. From this general idea, the term has come to be colloquially used to designate organized obstructionist tactics in legislative bodies. It is the practice of deliberately taking advantage of freedom of debate in the Senate with a view to delay or prevent action on a measure under discussion.

Q—Is filibustering possible in the House?

A—No. Forcing a roll call may be possible, but even that method does not prevail against a drastic Rules Committee report prohibiting offering of amendments to a bill.

Q—My son has a scholarship granted by the Atomic Energy Commission. He also is eligible for benefits under the War Orphans education program. Can he keep his Atomic Energy Scholarship and also draw War Orphans allowance?

A—No. The monthly allowances under the War Orphans program would constitute a duplication of benefits paid from the Federal Treasury. Such duplication is prohibited by law.

Q—Can you give me some figures on crop production in 1956? Also on the Commodity Credit Corporation crop holdings?

A—All farm production set an all-time record in 1956, 11% above the 1949-1954 average, and 1% above 1955. Total livestock and livestock products also set an all-time high in 1956, 23% above the average and 11% greater than in 1955. Total surplus stocks pledged for 1956 or in CCC inventory on Dec. 31, 1956 was $2.4 billion. The latest figures as of Oct. 31, 1956 give total surplus of $6.1 billion. Cost of all government price support operations from Oct. 17, 1953 through December 31, 1956 was $1,984 billion. Government costs from Jan. 1, 1953 thru Oct. 31, 1956 was $2,906 billion, or a total cost of price supports to that date of $3,730 billion.

TELL US YOUR PROBLEM

BY JOHN and JANE STRICKLAND

WALTER HARRISON, R.F.D., Rochester, New York, was beginning to feel that his marriage may have been a mistake. His wife was no longer the happy, cooperative girl he had married twelve years before, and who had borne him two fine young sons. Instead, they didn't seem to agree on much of anything. He would explain his point of view only to find that she had one of her own. Free in small matters she wouldn't give in.

It came to a head one day when one of the boys wanted to wear a gay and large patterned shirt, full out, to Sunday School, while his mother wanted him to wear a shirt all of one color, and tucked into his pants.

That was a small matter. Why should she be so fussy about a few flowers on a shirt? Let the boy be happy. He spoke sharply to his wife about this, told her that she was acting foolishly, "stupid silly," adding that he "had no idea when he married her that she was so stubborn. If he had—"

The matter was settled by his wife crying—and the boy himself gave in. Walter didn't like that. A woman taking advantage through a few tears.

He left the house angrily. As he went down the street he ran across two little colored boys having a verbal fight. The last words of one of them was: "What you say I is, you is." That made him laugh, and his anger was dissipated. And it also made him think that his wife was probably echoing the same sentiment.

He kept on thinking. He knew he had always been an arguer. His mother once said if he didn't have anyone to argue with, he would say something to himself and then dispute it.

He didn't go home until for dinner. There was the usual well-cooked, well-balanced meal on the table. Walter was particular about balanced meals. As he ate in silence, he decided he would stop arguing. Certainly about such small matters as flowers on a boy's shirt.

The next day that resolve was strengthened by being carried out. And the next day, and the next.

In the matter of a week or so, he and his wife didn't argue. Instead he looked back and saw that most of the things they had argued about were insignificant. Since that day he has several times told his wife that "it was a darned lucky day, the day I married you."

SUMMER VACATION TRAVEL BRINGS ANNUAL BOOM IN GAS TAX COLLECTIONS

With summer vacation time now at hand, Maine car owners, just during July and August, will drive some 230 million vehicle miles, consume about 65 million gallons of motor fuel, and pay an estimated $65 million in taxes on gasoline.

This is the prediction of Leroy T. Snowdon, Executive Secretary of the Maine Petroleum Association, on the basis of past trends in motor fuel consumption in this state.

Snowdon said that it was just 34 years ago this week that Maine highway users first began paying a tax on gasoline. Maine now collects about 15 times as much in taxes on gasoline during the two peak months of July and August as it did during the first full year the tax was in effect.

It was pointed out by Mr. Snowdon that the first tax was imposed on July 7, 1923 at a rate of one cent a gallon and brought in $122,000 its first year. Now, he said, the state tax, at seven cents a gallon, is expected to take in an estimated $33.2 million during 1957 while the three cent federal tax will swell the total amount collected within this state to an estimated $36 million.

While the rate of Maine's general sales tax was increased to three percent on July 1, Snowdon said, "Maine motorists with a total tax of 10 cents a gallon have been paying the equivalent of a 49 percent sales tax on gasoline for over a year, making motor fuel one of the highest taxed commodities in the family budget."

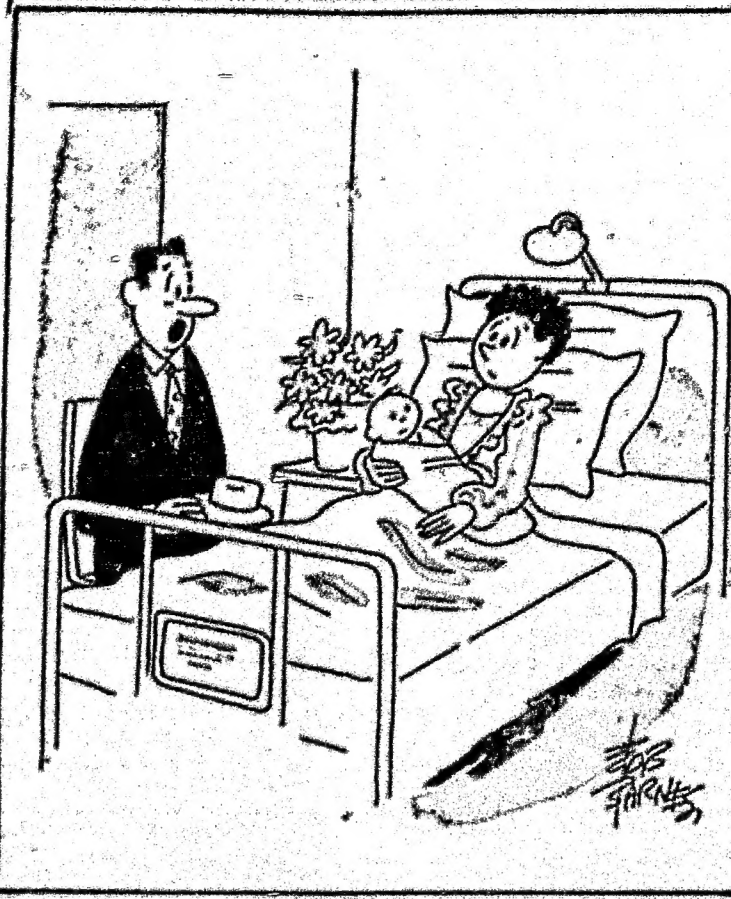

There is nothing so powerful as truth, and often nothing so foolish as a lie. —Daniel Webster

Bethel Wins Close One From Bridgton

Our boys played fine ball last Friday night on our new field behind the Crescent Park School and defeated Bridgton 1 to 0. "Jeff" Hutchins hauled a nice game for the locals allowing only 3 hits. Some of our best stickers were Melville with 2 for 2 and Don Ripe with 3 for 4.

Bridgton 000 000 0-0 3

Batteries: Bethel, Hutchins and Merrill; Bridgton, Rowe and Hebb. Rowe relieved in 4th by Turner. Umpires: Kittredge and Rowe.

South Paris Defeats Bethel
South Paris visited Bethel Tuesday evening and won easily 11 to 3. The game was featured by four home runs, 2 by South Paris Carey, and 2 by Swan and McAllister for Bethel. Some of our best hitters were DesRoches 2 for 2, Hutchins and DesRoches 2 for 3.
